

I feel that the FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections.

Indiana's Telephone Privacy law has improved my time at home, limiting the number of unwanted calls I receive.

Indiana's law has been incredibly effective concerning this matter. I used to receive several calls per week, many at very strange times of the day and many of which were quite frustrating and uncomfortable due to their confrontational sales techniques.

I feel Indiana's law has been a wonderful reform and truly hope that it remains as it is.
